World/metal/acoustic/traditional/pagan stream of never ending energy and stories.

Great, juicy acoustic music coming from amazing region in the heart of Europe. You can feel pagan energy, folk traditions, virtuous instrumentation, deep thoughts, unforgettable voices and metal sound altogether, performed by Moravian Jethro Tull or Chieftains, how they sometimes call them in reviews.

They have won twice a local version of Grammy - award ANDEL (2006 and 2012)!

Their album POPLOR also was for two months in TOP 20 of European World Music Charts. Album VELESU (2016) was held in WMCE for four months in row and ranked as No. 25 of 2016 overview.

The members of the group play the acoustic instruments - guitars, the violin, the dulcimer and recorders as well as percussions and traditional folk instruments. It sounds straight and it has expressive strains and rhythmical background with elements of rock, metal, folk music and jazz.

The group performed at significant festivals in the Czech Republic and at world festivals like European Broadcasting Union Folk Festival in Cork (IR), Rock for People (CZ), Nowa tradycja (PL), Colours of Ostrava (CZ), United Islands of Prague (CZ), Le village européen des nouvelles musiques traditionnelles (FR), Ethnosfera (PL), Viljandi Folk Festival (Estonia), Heritage World Music Festival, Szolnok (Hungary), Halkaer (Denmark), Harvest (Russia).

The orchestra finds a friendly audience all over the world.
