ABOUT

The Slovakia-based band Hrdza are currently one of the most popular world music acts in their homeland. Their own modern compositions that build on the east European folk tradition.

Hrdza are a powerful live act; high energy performance, strong vocals and catchy tunes evoke a favourable response from any kind of audience.

Hrdza have been on the scene for almost 20 years and won over 20 prestigious awards home and abroad but also mainstream contests such as the U.S. Steel Talent Night (SK, 2004), Coca-Cola PopStar (SK, 2005).

QUOTE

"As soon as the first song begins, you realize you've found something special here. Music played with joy, music with heart. Soaring voices, top notch musicianship, cleverly crafted original songs and first rate production are brought together with a genuine flair and feel for the compositions. These folks aren't just going through the motions of making music, they've crafted the real deal here, blending the old and new into a wonderfully pleasing sound. Records this enchanting don't come along every day, so don't miss this one".

The new album Neskrotený comprises of eleven original compositions mostly written by the band's leader and three adapted very little-known traditional songs with vocals in Slovak, Rusyn and Ukrainian. Apart from the frontman's vocals the album also features two female vocalists, Susanna Jara, born in Ukraine and residing in Poland and also Slovakia-based Lucia Gibarti. Hrdza's violin player, Dominik Maniak, is a respected young talent well known in the Slovak folk circles. The album also hosts a lot of special guest musicians such as Mykhaylo Zakhariya, a Moldavian cimbalom player who now lives in Slovakia, many Slovak well known folk music names such as Milan Rend'oš, Gabi Silvay, Michal Noga, Šafolka and also Nachyn Choreve, a throat singer and igil player from Tuva in southern Siberia.
